

Advanced Stage Spousal Group Seeks New Members

LIAF is pleased to offer a specialized support group for people whose spouse is in the advanced stages of Alzheimer's disease or a related dementia. This professionally facilitated support group will provide:

A supportive environment to verbalize feelings with peers.

Opportunities to discuss care options and end-of-life concerns.

Professional guidance in negotiating the role-changes as a spouse's dementia progresses.

Information and resources for the advanced-stage couple.
